

Earn a Master of Science Degree in Beam Physics and Technology from Indiana University and the USPAS

<http://uspas.fnal.gov/programs/masters-degree>

- Attend USPAS programs and apply the credit you earn toward a Master of Science Degree from Indiana University
- Cost: IU $150 per credit hour + USPAS registration fee, housing & travel; some financial assistance is available to students who qualify
- 30 credit hours earn a Master of Science Degree in Beam Physics and Technology
- Some previous credits may be transferrable
- Supervised thesis (3-9 credit hours) with defense
- Complete within 3-5 years; can be completed part-time concurrent with employment or other studies
- One-time non-refundable $55 IU application fee
- Must be US resident

For further information on program, admission requirements and qualifications, see USPAS web site and contact the USPAS office at uspas@fnal.gov or phone 630-840-3896

<http://uspas.fnal.gov>